A POSITIVE BID FOR THE WEST

STREET FRANCHISE. Who Company Informs the Rapid Transit Hear Usen Exactly What Terms It is Prepared to Build that Extension—It Would Also Build the Cressions and Fordham Lines.

The Manhattan Elevated Railroad, through its President, George J. Gould, made a positive proposition to the Rapid Transit Commission yesterday for the West street franchise, show ing exactly what contract the company was willing to make with the city for that particular extension of its tracks, and agreeing to execute a legal acceptance as soon as it was signed by the Rapid Transit Board. Furtherore, Mr. Gould said'in the letter which accompanied the offer that if the terms of the fran chise as modified by the company were accepted, the Manhattan would also transmit a counter proposition for the crosstown and Fordbam lines and for other additional tracks and facilities as speedily as they can be prepared. The route of the extension asked for is as fol-

Commencing in Battery place, where it adjoins Battery Park and Intersects Greenwich street, there connecting with the tracks of the Manhattan road, and thence along Battery place to West street; thence along West street and the marginal street adjacent to a point opposits or near Horatio street, thence across West street through Horatio street; and across Greenwich street, there crossing and connectcompany; thence along Horatio street to West Thirteenth street, thence across Greenwich avenue and along West Thirteenth street to Sixth avenue, there crossing and connecting with the existing railway of the Manhatjan Com-the existing railway of the Manhattan Company.

The company, according to the agreement, is to have the right to run both freight and passenger trains over the extension. It promises not to encroach on Battery Park, but there shall be stations on the extension at Battery place, and the road is to have the right to construct such additional stations as it deems necessary, provided that they are not less than 500 and not more than 3,000 feet apart. The new road is to be a two-track structure, so designed that it may at any time be changed into a three-track system, and the company is to have the right to make the change whenever it sees fit. Columns along West street shall be constructed in two rows, one of which shall be on the easterly sidewalk next to the curb and the other at least four and a half feet west of the gauge line of the west rail of the surface railway in that thoroughfare.

At Cortlandt street the new route is to be deoroughfare. At Cortlandt street the new route is to be de-

At Cortlandt street the new route is to be deflected into the marginal street and run along it not less than 110 feet in the clear from the bulkhead line. Columns along Horatio and Thirteenth streets shall be placed on the side-walls next to the curba. Detailed plans and specifications of the w.rk must be submitted to the Rapid Transit Board before construction begins. The company agrees to have the read completed and in operation three years after the necessary consent is obtained, exclusive of the time, if any, consumed unavoidably during that period by legal proceedings or by riots and strikes.

The rental which the company agrees to pay is one-haif of 1 per cent, of the gross passenger receipts of all the stations of the extension for the first thirty-five years of operation. At the end of thirty-five years the ront is to be readjusted for another period of thirty-five years. In case the company and the city authorities fall to agree the matter is to be submitted to arbitration, each side appointing one judge. If the Manhattan Company fails to complete the rond in the time specified, or if, having completed the extension, it does not operate it within one year, the board may, by written notice to the commany, annul the franchise, and the company will have no right to demand the return of payments made to the city for rent or other purposes.

The agreement was referred to the counsel and the chief engineer of the board for examination and report.

In the original franchise for the West street extension proposed by the Rapid Transit Commission the rent was to be 5 ner cent of the The rental which the company agrees to pay

The time set for the construc-tion was three years, but no allowance was made for delays incident to legal proceedings or any other cause. The penalty fixed for the non-completion of the road in the time specified was 8200 a day.

Longshoremen Take War Measures.

The American Longshoremen's Union, which has been in session since Monday, concluded its work yesterday, but will hold a brief meeting this morning to decide when and where its next annual convention will be held. At yesterday's session a resolution was passed unanimously exampting from payment of dues all members who enlist or bave enlisted in the army and navy during the war. It was also decided that in case any enlisted member is killed in the war the funeral benefit of $75 shall be paid to his family. As great numbers of longshoremen have been thrown out of work since the war began, owing to the dulness in shipping, more of them have enlisted in proportion than of members of any other union.

Tragedy That Involves a Story of Tw WASHINGTON, May 26.-James H. Horab, clerk in the Pension Bureau, to-night shot and probably fatally wounded George A. Fowle, an insurance agent. Behind the tragedy lies the story of two wrecked homes. Last summer Mr. and Mrs. Horah and Mr. and Mrs. Fowle were warm friends, and the two couples lived at the same suburban hotel. The attentions paid Mrs. Horsh by Mr. Fowle resulted last fall in two divorce suits, Mrs. Fowle naming Mrs. Horah as co-respondent, while in his suit Mr. Horsh named Fowle. Both divorces were granted. Fowie was recently arrested for failure to pay alimony and was released a few day ago. Meanwhile Horah and his wife had become reconciled, and he had called on her to-night to arrange for a remarriage.

As he was leaving the house he met Fowle and immediately shot him, the bullet entering the abdomen. Fowle was taken to the hospital, where his wound was pronounced fatal. Horah was arrested.

FIFTH AVENUE WATER MAIN LEAKS. The Collars of Robert Scolet and Mis Netchbors Flooded. One of the two big water mains recently laid in Fifth avenue sprang a leak early yesterday morning at Forty-sighth strest. Policeman Brown of the East Fifty-first street station dis covered water flowing out of a manhole about 2 A. M. Owing too the slight descent at Fortyeighth street all the water flowed south, but for a time it looked as though considerable damage would be caused. Both gutters were filled by the stream, but the bulk of the water ran down the sewer at Forty-seventh street. Part of this street was flooded, and in Fifth avenue, where the leak occurred, the water rose at some places above the sidewalk.

Shortly after the leak was discovered the water began to pour into the areaway of Mr. Robter began to pour into the areaway of Mr. Robter began to pour into the areaway of Mr. eighth street all the water flowed south, but for Shortly after the leak was discovered the water began to pour into the areaway of Mr. Robert Goelet's house at Forty-eighth street. It was discovered by the watchman, who pulled out a plug in the areaway, and some of the water was carried off. The water, however, manared to get into the cellar, and rose to a height of two and a half feet. Only slight damage was done. Some of the adjacent houses had about six inches of water in their cellars, and workmen were busy all day yesterday pumping the cellars out. Policeman Brown, when he discovered the leak, notified immediately the Central Office, and the Public Works Department was informed of the condition of affairs. It was not until 7 o'clock that the leak was stopped. The recent heavy rains, it is thought, had undermined one of the mains, and a derangement in the connection resulted in the leak.

$100,800 FOR THE AGENT.

Mrs. Felton's Charges in Reference to a Federal Appropriation.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 26 .- Charges as to the manner in which the $288,000 recently appropriated by Congress to cover certain property of the Methodist Episcopal Church destroyed or confiscated in Nashville during the civil war have been made by Mrs. W. H. Felton, prominent in W. C. T. U. circles and wife of ex-Con gressman Felton. Mrs. Felton alleges that, according to agree ment, 35 per cent, of the amount received from the Government, or $100,800, was awarded to a claim agent whose labors had secured the appropriation. It is understood that Messra Barbeo and Smith of Nashville, representing the Methodist Church, entered into an agreement with Major E. B. Stahlman, one of the best known men in Tennessee, and that the latter labored faithfully to secure the appropriation, spending $12,000 for this purpose. Mrs. Feiton asserts that during the debate over the advisability of granting the appropriation Senator Hate of Tennessee received a telegram from Barbee and Smith saying that no money was to be paid to claim agents, and that as the appropriation was secured on this false statement the Methodist Church is put in the attitude of a swindler. She favors the return of the entire sum to the Government as the only means of vindicating the Church. It is understood that others favor this course. ment, 35 per cent, of the amount received from

NEGRO PUT TO DEATH IN THE STREETS OF SALISBURY, MD.

He Had Shot a Man, and Friends of His Victim Demanted Vengeauce and Took It—Shots and a Noose That Broke Patied to End the Negro's Life-A Second Volley Pinished IJim.

SALBBURY, Md., May 26,-Vengeance was neted out here last night to Garfield King, the young pages who fatally shot Herman Kenny at Twigg's store, eight miles from here, on last Saturday night. Kenny died from his wounds yesterday. His friends determined to punish his slaver with death. The mob, without warning, came into town from the lower part of the county, surrounded the jail, battered down the doors with a telegraph pole and dragged the victim down the jail stairs. Sheriff Daskell was powerless. He had no warning of the attack, and he repeatedly summoned aid, but his appeals were in vain. The negro had no one to save him. Once outside he was set upon by the mob, kicked and beaten until it would have seemed that hanging was unnecessary. The means of the helpless victim seemed only to increase their fury. A rope was lacking, and somebody stole a clothesline from a nearby lot, and in a moment the body of the negro was in midair suspended from the limb of a tree. The negro made a desperate struggle. The rope broke once and he fell. As he struck the ground some one fired. The shot seemed to arouse him. He jumped up and made an effor to escape, but it was useless. More than a hun-dred shots were fired at him from guns, rifles, dred shots were fired at him from guns, rifles, and pistols. At last he was thought dead, and the mob closed in to see their work. A slight movement of the chest sent them back, and another volley was fired into him. At 11:45 their work was complete, and the body was string up to a tree and the mob dispersed.

The lynching occurred after the electric lights were put out and within a stone's throw of Judge Holland's room. Some of the citizens who were aroused by the noise wasted him called to prevent the lynching, but the suggestion was not heeded. This is the first lynching in Wicomico county, and many of the citizens are indignant over the act of the mob. As yet no efforts have been made to catch the lynchers. The dying testimony of young Kenny was to the effect that he was shot down in cold blood by King, who waited for him pistol in hand. The remains of the negro were left hanging to the tree until about 2 o'clock this afternoon, when they were cut down by the Sheriff. The acene of the lynching was only about twenty yards from Division street, one of the principal business streets of the city.

CENTRAL PARK BASEBALL.

Alderman Burrell Wants More of It an Would Exclude Scrub Cames.

Alderman George A, Burrell (Tam.), who represents the Thirtieth Assembly district, is going to make an appeal to President Clausen of the Park Board for additional facilities for baseball players in Central Park. His idea is to have as many diamonds as possible laid out on the meadow now used for baseball, with base lines meadow now used for baseball, with base lines, pitchers' boxes and foul lines marked out with chaik. He also desires to have the baseball grounds open to boys every day in the week except Sunday and to allow none to play there on Saturday afternoons except working boys from 17 to 23 years of age. Permits, he said yeaterday, should be granted only to teams which have arranged match games and but to box who with market to be. to teams which have arranged match games and not to boys who wish merely to bat the ball about and "play sides." Policemen, he thinks, should be stationed near the grounds with orders to revoke permits in cases where the teams have not nine men on a side, and he wants preference to be given in the matter of issuing permits to uniformed teams. A sufficient number of policemen, he says, should size be stationed near the various diamonds to keep the crowds back of the foul line so that the game may be played in a proper manner. may be played in a proper manner

Matthews Gets the Decision Over Brederick-

YONKERS, May 96.—The second meeting between Tom Broderick of this city and Matty Matthews of New York, which was scheduled for twenty rounds occurred at the Waverly & C. to night. The affai ended very unsatisfactory in the fourth round by the police stopping hostilities. This action arose after a furious mix-up, in which the Yonkers man punch-d Hatthews all over the ring and had him vory grougy. The men boxed the first two rounds cleanly, honors Matthews all over the ring and had him very group. The men boxed the first two rounds cleanly, honors being even.

In the third round Matthews hit Tom three times in the clinches, sithough he had agreed to break clean in the fourth round Hodericz punched Matthews clean and hard without scarcely a return, in a clinch Hatiy struck Tom a terrible blow in the wind. After this broaksway Broderick daried at Matthews, raining at least two dozen heres blows on Matthew's body and face. In the clinch that followed Matthew's again used a free hand. He was very group and refused to break clean, only two minutes of the round had been fought when the timer clanged his self. The house was in an uproar, and the men syldently did not hear it. They mixed to pagain, and finderick was away ahead when the police interfered.

To the surprise of sveryone, two of the three judges, "Brooklyn" Jinmy Carroll and B. Branier, decided in favor of Matthews. The third judges, James Lpnch of New York, voted it a draw. Matthews was the favorite at 100 to 75. There was inch betting and a crowded house.

Matthew's face was badly puffed and bleeding after the bout, while Broderick was without a mark. The two preliminaries resulted in draws. They were between George Dassell and Harry Peterson of New York and Hilly Forsyth of Danbury. Both were of six rounds.

Ordway returned from Chicago yesterday, beinging with him the articles of agreement signed by Billy Rotchford to meet Podlar Paimer at the National Sporting Club. London, the first week in October next. The articles call for a contest to twenty rounds at 116 pounds, weigh in at 8 o'clock, for a purse of $3,000, $500 of which will go to the loser. In addition to this, the articles stipulate that there shall be a side bet of $1,000. HAMBURG NO LONGER KING

Bowling Brook Wins the Bistorie Stakes by s Wide Margin from Previous-Sty Pax Cap-tures His Pifth Bace of the Morris Park Meeting-Politicians Cash on a 100 to 1 Shet.

The spring meeting of the Westchester Racing Association came to a sensational climax yes terday at Morris Park in the presence of 5,000 enthusiasts who braved the rainstorm to wit ness the thirty-second running of the Belmont stakes. Rarely has such a classic race been run in more cheerless surroundings. Few of the visitors dared venture into the open except during the momentary excitement of a finish, and the betting ring, where the majority congre-gated between races, had to be lighted by electricity throughout the afternoon. The tracks naturally suffered most from the deluge, and they were soon reduced to the sloppiest stage known to racegoers.

The sole topic on every tongue after the last special reached the track was the historic Belmont and its possibilities. Judgment was sacrificed to sentiment when Hamburg was men tioned, and the usually conservative talent would have nothing else but the speedy son of Hanover-Lady Reel, although he had not been out this year, while Bowling Brook and Previous had shown sterling form in recent races. Gala-Day was added at the last moment, but his ap-pearance on the board did not worry the guessers, as the most optimistic could not figure him as having the ghost of a chance against the notable trio named overnight. Hamburg opened at 6 to 5 and was promptly backed down to even money. Previous was second choice at 2 to 1, and Bowling Brook receded from 3 to 1 to 7 to 2.

Gala Day was quoted at 150 to 1 with few takers. When Hamburg appeared with Taral in the saddle, he received a rousing reception, and al-though he looked a triffe high in flesh his admirers swarmed over each other to get another bet down. Previous, with Sloan up, won many fresh admirers, who apparently failed to notice that Bowling Brook looked trained to the hour. The presence of Gala Day puzzled many of the onlookers, who had been so absorbed in the other three that they omitted to study the bulletin heard.

onlookers, who had been so absorbed in the other three that they omitted to study the bulletin board.

The start for the trying mile and three furlongs over the hill was made right in front of the judge's box, and Bowling Brook showed temper. He refused one break, but moved off next time on even terms with his two big rivals, while Irving, on Gala Day, seemed satisfied to take a length the worst of it. Hamburg, as usual, was quickest to strike his gait, but Howling Brook, on the rail, soon drew level, and the pair raced like a team round the first bend and up the long backstretch. They ran the first furlong in 13 seconds, two furlongs in 254 seconds, the half in 33 seconds, and five furlongs in 1107. Then Howling Brook showed in front, and, crossing the hill, opened up a gap of a length and a half. At this stage Previous, who had been rating along eight lengths off, moved up closer, but Gala Day was running a race by himself thirty lengths behind. Coming down the hill for home the Morris colt increased his advantage to three lengths, while Hamburg was clearly in trouble. Previous caught and passed him easily on the flat, and the favorite's chances were all over. Bowling Brook went right along about his business and won by eight lengths from Previous, who linished three lengths in front of Hamburg. Gala Day wound up the muddy procession about forty lengths back. The time was the slowest yet made in the race since it was increased to the present distance. Hastings won two years ago in 2:2449, while Scottish Chieftain scored last year in 2:2349, while Scottish Chieftain scored last year in 2:2349, while Scottish Chieftain scored last year in 2:2349, while Scottish Chieftain scored has year in 6:2345. The discrepancy between these figures and this year's time is a fair illustration of the wretched condition of the track yeaterday.

The other fixed ovent on the card was the Van Cortlandt Highweight Handicap, for three-year olds and upward, over the last seven furiongs of the Withers mile. C. F. Dwyer's improving three-year-old Siy Fox, who had won the Crotona, the first of these serials, went to the post a hot favorite at 3 to 5 against George Keene and Debride, the only other contenders. Siy Fox had to shoulder 129 pounds, but he carried it like a loather, and won cleverly by a length after being hard driven for two furiongs to catch Goorge Keene. The Fleischmann colt put up a weak finish after looking all over a winner to the inclosure, but those who accepted 9 to 5 about his chances were among the first to cheer the gallanttriumph of Siy Fox and Sims. The free handicap down the Eclipse course, which started the tun, was a repetition of the race on May 24. Hanwell running first and Lambent second. The favorite. Senator McCarren, was a poor fifth. The talent were wrong again in the second race, which went to Kirkwood, who won by half a length from Extreme, with the favorite, King's Pride, ten lengths off. This paved the way for a big surprise in the third race. Athanas, Decanter, and Long Acre were played to finish as named, but the rank outsider Heimsiele at 100 to 1 won handily. The fortunate minority who played him included some prominent politicians and office-holders. The last race of the day and meeting resulted in a win for the Morris Bros. Mirthful, who beat the favorite, Ben Ronaid, by a head. The summary:

SMUGGLED IN BULK. Two of the Auguste Victoria's Steerage Pansongers Arrested Testerday.

About a week ago the customs authorities learned that 260 packages of linens, valued at nearly $1,000, had been smuggled ashere from nearly $1,000, had been smuggled ashere from the steamship Auguste Victoria, which arrived here from Hamburg on May 14. After a lengthy investigation Special Treasury Agent Theobold ascertained that the goods had been brought from Germany by two steerage passengers.
Charles and Claudine Ruben, who succeeded in removing the linens from the steamship to 188 Delancey street. Yesterday afternoon Theobold got a search warrant from Commissioner Shields and went to the Rubens' apartments, where he found and seized the packages. How goods of such bulk were smuggled from the pier has puzsled the customs authorities. Only negligence or oversight can account for it, it is stated, and strict inquiry is to be made.
